Our Community Remembers Aishling Murphy

A candlelight vigil was held at the grotto beside St. Brigid's Hall Clonegal on Friday January 14th to remember Aishling Murphy whose young life was so tragically ended when she was out for a run in her native Tullamore on Wednesday January 12th. Above is the picture of the many candles left in the grotto by some of the attendees. Ar dheis Dé go Raibh a hAnam

Interesting Facts????

John Driver of Abbeydown was buried in Clonegal with full military honours. He served in the British Army and fought at the Battle of Balaclava and Inkerman during the Crimean War (1854-1856). A war fought largely for control of the port of Sebastabool.

On his tombstone is written

He could handle a sword, he could handle a tool

And he fought right well at Sebastabool
