Interesting Facts !!!!

At one point in time a lady known as Mary Hore lived in The Long Lane in Barnahask. She was known as a maker of “Matrimonial Matches” There is no record of any of the matches she made. She is one of the few recorded local matchmakers. Local folklore points to families negotiating their own children’s matrimonial arrangements which often involved the exchange of assets usually cash, land or livestock. Love and romance being rarely a feature of Irish marriages up to the middle of the last century.
